In the event of an emergency—Call 911 Immediately

The Emergency Medical Treatment Act (EMTALA 1986) requires that the emergency room must provide treatment regardless of ability to pay or insurance status (section 1867 (a) of the social security act)

Partner Notification PNAP/CNAP

For assistance and information about how to tell your previous and current partners about your HIV status

(212) 442-3388

<http://www.health.ny.gov/diseases/aids/facts/questions/publichealthlaw.htm>

Partner notification is important so that people can become aware of their HIV risk and receive HIV counseling and testing. Then they can take steps to protect themselves and their loved ones and get medical care sooner if they are infected.

Treatment Hotlines

If you think you have been exposed to HIV immediately go to the nearest emergency room. Within the first 2-36 hours of exposure, a treatment may prevent transmission. The treatment is not guaranteed to prevent transmission but is more likely to be effective when begun as soon as possible; generally, clinicians will not provide the treatment if more than 72 hours have passed since the exposure. Talk to your doctor or medical provider about PEP, and you will be better prepared/informed if there is an emergency situation. This hotline might help provide further information:
